Please tick the box below if you wish to donate your money to Childline

Every 25 seconds a child contacts' Childline. They want to talk about things like abuse, self-harm, and suicide; problems they feel they can't speak to anyone else about. The day a child finds the courage to contact Childline is so often the one when they begin to turn their life around.

Childline is a free, 24-hour helpline, online chat service and website. Every day of the year, professionally trained Childline counsellors provide children and young people with a safe, supportive, and confidential space to get help, advice, and be listened to.
